1) The 2009 History Fair, Heretics, History and Hallelujas, will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. November 14th at Calvary St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, 28 Ashland St.

This year's event includes speakers: Alan Illig on The Life of Heretic Algernon Crapsey; Majorie Searl on Artist George Haushalter; Valerie O'Hara on Stained Glass Art at CSA and Cynthia Howk on History and Architecture of the South Wedge.

Vendors to date are: Greece Historical Society; Susan B. Anthony House; Friends of Mount Hope; Antique Postcards; NYS Erie Canal Society; Highland Park Neighborhood Assoc.; Rochester Public Library; Cranberry Creek Herbs; Record Archive; Rose O'Keefe and local authors.

Friends of Mount Hope are also holding a special tour at Mount Hope Cemetery that afternoon.

CSA parishioners are also cooking up hearty chili, scrumptious soup & tasty breads for sale.

Admission is free and donations of any size towards the repair of the church's art work will be gladly accepted.

There is ample free parking at the Postler Jaeckle lot on the southwest corner of South Avenue at Averill Avenue.

Updates including speaker and tour times will be added online at www.calvarysaintandrews.org or call Rose O'Keefe at (585) 244-45583)

2) Thank you to the following members of the Business Assoc. of the South Wedge Area (BASWA), who have donated returnables for Naiades women's oncology rowing team:

Premier Pastry; Historic Houseparts and Eco Bella Bakery.

Their contributions so far this year are between $35-40.

3) I shared a booth with #12 School PTSA at the 5th Annual ArtistRow Art & Craft Fair at the Rochester Public Market, on Sunday Sept. 20 from 10am - 4pm. It was a lovely day.
